ALULA

A JOURNEY THROUGH TIME WAITING TO BE EXPLORED

By Phillip Jones, Chief Tourism Officer at the Royal Commission for AlUla

Ever since it opened its doors to the public as a year-round destination in October 2020, AlUla has revealed itself as a hidden gem in the region - a city that embraces modernity while also being a vast open air living museum.

Home to over 200,000 years of human history, the Saudi Arabian city has shared its rich history and cultural heritage with the world and cemented itself as a formidable player in the tourism field.

Once again, The Royal Commission for AlUla (RCU) will showcase what AlUla offers in the tourism and travel field at Arabian Travel Market 2023, with RCU members in attendance, along with our partners and other stakeholders.

Among RCU's main goals at this leading travel and tourism event is to connect with top travel and tourism stakeholders from the region and beyond, as well as showcase AlUla's vast and diverse offerings. The objective is to demonstrate what makes it a prime location for discerning travellers on the lookout for boutique and luxury experiences.

Enriched by its stunning natural scenery and wealth of historical monuments, AIUla is a unique destination that is set to be a driver for economic growth for Saudi Arabia. In line with Saudi Vision 2030, AIUla welcomed 180,000 visitors in 2022 compared to the previous year when the city saw 146,000 visitors. Going ahead, AIUla is targeting 250,000 tourists and visitors in 2023, with a focus on reaching its overarching goal for 2035 of 2 million visitors.

What's new for AIUla?

Ahead of ATM, RCU announced that it will be revealing the latest developments at the event, along with a fresh range of activities and experiences that visitors can revel in, and many events returning for new editions. Lots more will be showcased at ATM, including details about upcoming world-class luxury resorts and hotels and expanded flight routes.

There are strategic plans in the works to increase flights between AIUla and international destinations, in line with AIUla's goal to position itself as a must-visit touristic spot that welcomes everyone. In addition to Dubai, Paris and Cairo, a new option will be a direct flight from Amman on Royal Jordanian starting in October 2023.

AIUla is also proud to be partnering with some of the top hospitality brands in the world to increase the number of keys within the destination. By the end of 2023, AIUla is expected to see an increase in inventory to 1,252 keys, signifying a 115% increase from 2022 numbers.

Two of the biggest and most exciting hospitality experiences in AIUla will be the launch of the Dar Tantora eco boutique hotel in Old Town and The Chedi AIUla, which is the first hotel to be situated in Saudi Arabia's first UNESCO World Heritage Site of Hegra.

The Dar Tantora eco boutique hotel will feature 30 guest rooms created from historical mud-brick buildings that have been restored in AIUla Old Town, a historic district that was recently recognised as one of the Best Tourism Villages 2022 by the UN World Tourism Organization.

While the Chedi AIUla, a heritage boutique hotel, will offer 35 guest rooms that have been designed to have a distinct connection with Hegra's monumental landscape.

Old Town and Hegra are part of a rich selection of landmarks that make up the fascinating landscape of AIUla, allowing visitors to put themselves right in the middle of ancient history and age-old traditions.

Azerbaijan

Healing at the best Health and Wellness centres

Azerbaijan has more than one type of natural assets which allow to develop diverse sustainable experiences and products. At the moment, this is crucial as it has never been before, as post-pandemic changes demonstrate the value tourists see in authentic and sustainable tourism.

Travellers have an opportunity to restore their mind and soul at renowned resorts through multiple types of wellness procedures. One such experience is taking salt therapy offered in health resorts all over Azerbaijan. However, Duzdag, or 'Salt Mountain', in Nakhchivan, a former salt mine converted into a sanatorium, provides the most authentic experience. The mountain is thought to contain about 130 million tonnes of pure natural salt, which has the ability to cure a number of ailments such as allergies, asthma and other respiratory illnesses as well as aging skin.

The Duzdag Physiotherapy Centre consists of tunnels carved 300 metres into the mountain, 110 metres below the ground. Visitors can spend a night in one of the underground rooms in these tunnels and enjoy not only the restorative powers of salt, but also the calmness and peace away from the everyday hustle. A well-equipped resort is located above ground 2 km away from the tunnels.

Another natural wonder of Azerbaijan is its thermal baths and springs. There are more than 30 deposits of thermal mineral waters with different concentrations, sulphur levels and organic substances in the Caucasus. Three of them are located near the charming city of Gabala situated at the foot of the Caucasus Mountains, and are the basis of balneotherapy treatments at several world-class health and wellness resorts in the city.

Several villages in the Lankaran region to the south of the country are also famous for their thermal water springs, with several sanatoriums offering relaxing and therapeutic baths of the hot, mineral-rich water flowing naturally from underground.

Another must-visit place in terms of thermal resources is the village of Istisu in the Kalbajar district of the liberated Karabakh region. Restoration is underway in this region, where a sanatorium used to treat a variety of illnesses related to the nervous system, skin, muscles and bones as well as respiratory, diabetes, digestive and kidney problems.

Last but definitely not least, the curative effect of the famous oil baths in Naftalan leaves visitors in awe each time. According to popular legend, this oil's healing properties were first spotted by a merchant travelling along the Silk Road who left one of his sickly camels to die by an oily pool and returned to find it fully recovered. Different from conventional industrial oils, this one has a unique chemical composition, thanks to which Naftalan, located around 300 km from Baku, has become one of the leading health and wellness destinations of Azerbaijan.

Having the power to heal more than 70 diseases, such as muscle, skin, bone and joint pains, as well as gynaecology and neurology problems, the crude oil baths and individual treatment sessions are an ideal experience for those in search of healing. Treatment typically involves taking daily oil baths for at least a week at one of the city's many wellness centres.

Also, a comprehensive city branding strategy has recently been developed for Naftalan city to increase its potential to attract visitors and boost tourism while supporting businesses here. Visitors can now enjoy cycling paths and an Oil Museum pavilion assisted by a Tourism Information Centre and wayfinding signs.

NAMIBIA

Etosha National Park

Die internationally renowned Etosha National Park – undoubtedly Namibia’s most popular tourist attraction -is the heart of north-central region of the country.

Etosha was born from a drying lake that filled up with sediment and was shape by wind the scouring effects of wind erosion. Etosha owes its unique landscape to Etosha Pan, a vast, shallow chalky white depression of approximately 22 912 square km. Once a large inland lake fed by rivers from north and east, which dried up 120 million years ago as continental drift changed the slope of the land and course of the tributaries.

Etosha was first proclaimed a game reserve if 1907. The Etosha Pan covers 23% of the surface area of the park. It is the largest saltpan in Africa, visible even from space. The park hosts 114 mammal species and 340 bird species, several are rare and endangered, such as black rhino and cheetah, and the lesser-known blackface impala, which is endemic to north-western Namibia and south-western Angola. Etosha’s current population of black rhino represents one of the largest populations of black rhino in the world.

A series of waterholes along the southern edge of the pan draws herds of plains game, elephant, rhino, giraffe, predators and birds, making it one of the most varied and prolific wildlife experiences in Africa.

The park is also a pivotal part of Namibia’s incredible wildlife recovery story, in its more than a century of existence. Etosha has always been a wildlife haven and has become a beacon of success in terms of conservation. Other than the Big five(elephant, rhino, lion, leopard, and the buffalo) Etosha is home to 642 species of terrestrial vertebrates.

Etosha is a great all-year around destination. Namibia’s low rainfall means that sunny days are the rule. The sparse vegetation makes it easy for game spotting, however it is advisable to plan your visit during winter months, when water is scarce and most of the animals congregate around the waterholes. Alternatively, the summer months are a foray into the "Etosha nursery" with game giving birth to their newest herd members, younglings everywhere.

The question frequently asked, how long is long enough to see every corner of the park so large that it takes up more space than some countries? No amount of time can ever be enough to enjoy the vast scope of Etosha National Park.

Even discounting the parts closed off to visitors, even by following the marked roads and visiting the designated waterholes still requires a lot of time to experience it all.

Etosha National Park is one of the most famous national parks on the Africa continent and one of the best wildlife experiences in the world.
